ABOUT ME

Enthusiastic and committed multimedia student interested in combining creativity and technology to create immersive digital experiences. I have a good foundation in graphic design, animation, video production, and web programming, and I am now pursuing a degree in multimedia design. My academic experience has provided me with hands-on knowledge with industry-standard software tools as well as front-end languages. I thrive on the convergence of art and technology, attempting to create appealing visual narratives that engage viewers across several platforms. With a keen eye for detail and a strong desire for innovation, I am always looking for new ways to broaden my skill set and keep up with developing trends in multimedia design.
